(Rev. 5/15)

Safety Officers must provide and explain this form to each applicant or student prior to administering a TPT test.

The South Carolina Code of Law authorizes the Department of Motor Vehicles to enter into contracts with persons, corporations, or governmental subdivisions, including public schools, in localities throughout the State to administer the portion of the driver's license examination that tests the driver's license applicant's ability to read and understand highway signs that regulate, warn, and direct traffic, and his knowledge of the traffic laws of the State, and the actual demonstration of his ability to exercise ordinary and reasonable control in the operation of the type of motor vehicle for which the license is sought as contained in Section 56-1-130 (A). The department must supervise the provision of services contained in this subsection.

Section 56-1-15 (D) requires the department to randomly test driver's license applicants who successfully complete the driver's license examinations pursuant to subsection (A) to ensure that the driver's license instructors are properly certifying that their students have successfully completed a driver's license examination.
